

Student Rental Policy

The St. Louis Hillel embraces the diversity of the Jewish community and welcomes the use of its facility by other campus groups, community groups and individuals. St. Louis Hillel's commitment is first and foremost to our students' programming; therefore students' needs take precedence when considering rental opportunities. Rental of any space in the building is always subject to staff availability. During Washington University's fall, Thanksgiving, winter, spring, and summer break schedules, rentals may have limited availability. If the rental is on a Jewish holiday or Shabbat, the use of the building must be appropriate for that day.

Food Policy

Food served at Hillel is expected to comply with Jewish dietary custom and the laws of Shabbat and holidays. While food served by groups meeting in these areas need not be kosher in the strictest sense, the entire Hillel building is a Jewish space. Jewish sensitivities prevail.

Alcohol Policy

- No person or organization using Hillel facilities may sell liquor by the drink. Further, no person or organization using Hillel facilities may allow its guests to bring in their own liquor.
- No alcoholic beverages may be served to anyone under 21 years of age on Hillel property.
- Student groups must follow Washington University's Alcohol Policies.

Other Policies

St. Louis Hillel does not provide custodial services. All trash, recyclables should be thrown in the proper container. Any other Hillel property or supplies should be cleaned and returned to the proper storage place. Furniture may be left in place. If St. Louis Hillel is required to clean up after the rental, the renter shall be charged a minimum of $25 for custodial fees or student groups may be refused further rentals.

Renters will pay for loss, breakage, and/or other damage to the building, property and its equipment caused by the renter's use.

Certain events may require Hillel staffing. A fee of $25/hour will be applied to these events. The Hillel staff person role is to assist with scheduling of drop-off materials, open and close the building for an event, and be on site during event. Hillel staff person will not serve as an event/party planner. It is the renter's responsibility to hire and work with a full service caterer/event management company if needed.

Use of the Hillel facility is restricted to only those areas rented and common lobby's and restroom facilities, use of other portions of the building not in the rental agreement is not allowed. Rental of the area chosen will be vacated promptly on or before the concluding time specified.

St. Louis Hillel is smoke-free. Smoking is prohibited anywhere inside the Hillel building. Smoking is only permitted outdoors.

Renters agree to follow the St. Louis Hillel Rental Procedures for acquiring space and payment.

All Renter's will have a signed copy of the St. Louis Hillel Rental Policies on file.
